Gen. Wedemeyer Declares China Needs U.S. Help

Author Of "Top Secret" Report On China Tells Senate Committee Of Need

SILENT ON REPORT MADE TO TRUMAN (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, whose report on China was made "Top Secret" by the State Department, urged Congress today to grant immediate U. S. military and economic aid to the Chiang Kai-Shek Chinese Nationalist government.

By CHARLES E. SEIB
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Lieut. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer, author of a "Top Secret" report on China, told Congress today that the Chinese National government under Chiang Kai-Shek is in "urgent" need of United States military supplies and economic aid.

Testifying before the Senate Appropriations Committee, Wedemeyer again refused to divulge the contents of his secret report to President Truman, but gave his opinions freely, "as a normal observer."

The general declared that China must be figured in any world program of aid as a weapon against communism.

Greatest Danger Points

He added: "We are confronted with an ideology based on expansion throughout the world. I believe our planning should determine the points of greatest danger and then set out to regard that expansion, block it and finally penetrate back in."

He indicated that he considers China one of those spots in danger.

EIGHT SURVIVE PLANE DISASTER

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 17.—(INS)—Army Air Corps investigators sought today to learn the cause of a B-29 bomber smashup in which 12 men met flaming deaths while eight others survived.

The big plane was wrecked last night as it crash-landed on the Arizona desert within two minutes after taking off from the Davis-Monthan Airfield at Tucson. The craft caught fire upon impact.

An Army Air Corps flight board at the airfield, seeking the cause of the crash, questioned the eight survivors, seven of whom received minor injuries and burns while the eighth escaped unharmed. Twenty officers and men were aboard the plane.

Cause Not Known

A public relations officer said: "We naturally don't know the cause of the crash, but the plane" (Continued on Page Two)

Expect U. S. Will Move To Dissolve Big Four Council

Failure Of London Conference Believed Marking End Of Big Four Parleys

ACTION WILL BE DIPLOMATIC EFFORT

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The United States is expected today to seek the dissolution of the Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers because of the organization's failure in London.

There is a substantial amount of belief that the council, which was set up at Potsdam in 1945 to help establish world peace, has failed after two disheartening attempts in London and Moscow.

Any decision to abandon the council presumably would have to be made by all of the powers which joined it in its creation—the U. S., Britain, France, China and Russia.

Would Be Diplomatic Effort

However, an agreement to disband the organization would be arranged through diplomatic channels rather than in another Big Four conference of chiefs of state.

It is believed possible, if not probable, that Russia would oppose dissolution of the council and use its abandonment as an argument against the western powers.

The United States is expected by diplomatic observers to refrain from any immediate effort to break the present deadlock. But the Marshall plan and the Truman doctrine probably will be pursued to their full capacity in the hope that Moscow ultimately will see the light and turn to cooperation.

Increase U. N. Use

The U. S. policy also is expected to be directed at increasing use of the United Nations, particularly if any direct threat is made to the peace. Ultimately, the U. N. may be asked to aid in the drafting of peace treaties for Austria, Germany and Japan.

In view of Russia's insistence that the council of foreign ministers should be the medium for drafting the Japanese treaty, officials feel that the group would be no more successful in Asia than in Europe.

However, China's proposal that the 11 Far Eastern powers draft the treaty, with the Pacific Big Four—the U. S., Britain, Soviet Union and China—retaining the veto, appeared to be one compromise available.

Two Certainties

Two developments, meanwhile, appeared certain:

1. No effort will be made to set up a separate German government for the American, British and French occupation zones in Germany. An administrative machinery of Germans to operate the area however, is regarded as likely.
2. There will be no effort to make a separate peace with Japan even if China agrees to do so, which appears improbable.

Plan Full Scale Probe Of Grain Speculation

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The Senate Republican Policy committee today authorized a full-scale investigation of grain speculation, including use of subpoena power to force Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to make public his "secret" list of speculators.

Chairman Taft, (R) Ohio, announced that Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., will call the appropriations committee into session at 2 p. m. (EST) to issue subpoenas directing Anderson to produce the speculators' list and "all his information" forthwith. Taft added:

"If we can't get this information from Anderson, we will subpoena brokers' records. We want all the facts and the names of all the people involved."

Taft said Congress is determined to learn whether any "leaks" from the Agriculture department or the Commodity Exchange authority were used to personal advantage by government officials.

He added that the investigation will extend to members of Congress as well as other public officials.

Report France Seeks Three-Power Military Alliance For Defense

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager International News Service

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Authoritative sources said today that France seeks a three-power military alliance against Germany and Russia in return for merging its occupation zone with those of America and Britain.

France wants to know whether the United States will conclude such a military alliance before committing itself on fusion.

This question concerning French security is one of the most important subjects discussed at last night's informal dinner talk between Secretary of State Marshall and French Foreign Minister Bidault and their top-ranking advisers.

No Formal Request

A participant in the dinner told International News Service that Bidault made no formal request; but that both sides "sounded one another out concerning issues involved in the possible fusion of the French zone with those of America and Britain."

The question of the extent to which the United States is prepared to go in meeting French security demands in connection with Germany will play an important part in preparations for formal three-power talks regarding western Germany.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—At least one person was dead and 12 seriously injured today after the partial collapse of a seven-story apartment building in downtown Washington.

Portions of the structure collapsed about 11:30 o'clock last night and firemen were still probing the wreckage of the building early today in an effort to find survivors.

A fire department surgeon indicated that other bodies might be found in the building. He said that "you can't tell how many people are buried in this debris."

It was first believed that an explosion had wrecked the building, but police said after an investigation that portions of the structure, which was under repair, had collapsed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—Chairman Bridges (R) N. H., of the senate appropriations committee disclosed today that the committee will use its subpoena power to force disclosure of Secretary of Agriculture Anderson's secret list of grain speculators.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 17.—(INS)—Two court actions seeking to oust George L. Mueller as president of the independent union of Duquesne Light Company employees were filed in Common Pleas court in Pittsburgh today by ten members of the union.

One action charged he was holding office in violation of the union's constitution and the other charged "one-man rule" of the affairs of the organization.

Four of the petitioners are members of the union, and five others are former committeemen.

Believe He Has Authority

After calling a Senate counsel into consultation with three other Senators over Anderson's proposal, Bridges declared:

"We still believe Secretary Anderson has the full legal authority to give the names to a Congressional committee."

"That belief on our part is based on competent legal advice from the legal counsel of the Senate."

It takes some thought and a lot of care in picking a Christmas tree, it has to be shapely and not too tall, and it's what it ought to be, the trunk will be straight and the needles quite long, and when you've looked over it more, you have to be satisfied that it's the one, the prettiest tree in the store. For it's fate is to grace the living room spot, and when time comes to move it away, it's remembered for months for its beauty and shape it's thirty four, chilly today.

GEN. WEDEMAYER DECLARES CHINA NEEDS U. S. HELP

from a "power with world expansion and world aggression in its program."

Wedemeyer was strong in his support for Chiang Kai-Shek, declaring: "I think he is a fine character—and he is the logical leader in China. There is nobody else to do business with."

In regard to the Generalissimo's political views, Wedemeyer told the committee that he doesn't think it matters whether he is "a benevolent despot—which he practically is." He explained that "point is he has opposed communism throughout his history."

Stayed With U. S. As Ally

The general pointed out that Chiang Kai-Shek stayed with the United States as an ally throughout World War II.

He declared that the Generalissimo prevented about a million well-trained Japanese troops from being turned against American soldiers by rejecting "very friendly surrender terms" made to him by the Japanese. He added: "I saw those terms and I know they were favorable."

Wedemeyer told the committee that Chiang Kai-Shek has "leaned backwards" to keep his promises to the United States, but that the United States has not kept all of its promises to China." He added:

"If I were he, I would be quite impatient with America."

He quoted the Generalissimo as telling him when they parted last summer:

Will Combat Communism

"Whether or not your country helps China, I will continue to combat communism and to strive to build a democracy in China. I may not be able to accomplish that in my lifetime—it depends on outside influences, those of the United States and Russia."

Referring to the extent of possible aid to China, Wedemeyer reminded the committee that "there is a bottom to our economic barrel" and that the United States would have the right to supervise use of the relief.

The general explained his refusal to reveal the contents of his report to the president by saying:

"As a soldier, my commander-in-chief (President Truman) ordered me to maintain security. He admonished me to make certain that my staff maintained security. We have attempted to do so."

don reported that Bidault suggested to Marshall that the British, French and Americans hold a conference on Germany in Washington.

Wants Protection

Bidault not only wants adoption of a strong military treaty on a three-power basis, but he wants provisions to protect France against Russia.

What Bidault seeks is adoption of the original plan by Former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes to keep Germany disarmed for 40 years, with added provisions now Russia. Byrnes had sought at previous meeting of the Big Four to win adoption of the military alliance to guard against any German war potential but the Soviets thwarted its adoption.

The French believe now that the Big Three can agree on a similar pact if it is so worded as to provide against not only a German aggressor but also an offensive military operations occurring on German soil.

Bidault takes the position that division of Europe makes France in effect the first main line of defense in western Europe against the danger of attack from the East.

He feels, therefore, that France should be assured of help from the United States and Britain in the event of trouble. This appears to be his price for France's participation in joint control of development of western Germany.

LEGAL STAFF DIFFER ON GIVING NAMES OF SPECULATORS

Exchange laws with a provision to empower him to disclose names of members of Congress as well as other so-called "insiders" in the grain market.

First, Bridges indicated, the committee will try to get the names by other means—which might include calling on Commodity Exchanges directly for the names of holders of large accounts.

Special Probers

Meanwhile, House Republican leaders made plans to create a special seven-man committee to investigate commodity speculation.

Four Republicans and three Democrats will be named to the committee this week House Speaker Martin (R) Mass., indicated that Rep. Andresen (R) Minn., probably will head the special group.

Andresen promised a "full-dress investigation" if he is the committee chairman.

Bridges said his committee will "look further" into the legal status of Anderson's secret list. He added:

"However, we intend to get all the names and all the facts in some manner, and the list of names the secretary has is just one phase of the inquiry."

Asked if the speculation inquiry—which began with Edwin W. Pauley, special assistant to Army Secretary Royall, would extend to any members of Congress who may be speculating, Bridges repeated: "We intend to get all the names and all the facts."

Anderson based his flat refusal to disclose the names of persons holding more than 200,000 bushels of grain on a provision prohibiting the publication of individual business transactions.

binized zones in Germany to develop its economy in accordance with the Marshall plan.

The state department announced that the document will be signed in the office of acting Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett at 5 p. m. EST today.

The accord has been reported to provide for a reapportionment of the costs of operating the two zones with the United States bearing 70 per cent of the load. However, this country will also have increased authority to decide control questions.

Following the breakdown of the big four foreign ministers' council in London, efforts will now be made to bring the economy of the French zone also into the operation of western Germany.

SPEAKER TELLS OF CONDITIONS ABROAD

Service to Foreign Born was highlighted as the December theme for the New Castle Section of the National Council of Jewish Women meeting in Tifereth Israel synagogue Tuesday evening with husbands as special guests. Mrs. Simon Skole, chairman, spoke of the merger of this service on the national level with United Service for New Americans whose four-point program covers locations and search for lost relatives, assistance with immigration documents, port and dock work and naturalization.

Introducing the program speaker as one who had personal contact with refugees abroad, Mrs. Skole presented George Alpern, former director under UNRRA of a displaced persons camp in the Lantion area of Bavaria near Berchtesgaden. In the midst of majestic beauty, survivors from Russia, Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia were huddled into rudely constructed pine-plank barracks, overcrowded, ill-heated, filthy, lacking in sanitation; the well and the sick, adults and children confined together, he told the group.

Considering 2400 calories as necessary to maintain normal body growth and repair at simple labor and 4000 at hard labor, Mr. Alpern said these DP's received 2000 and 3000 calories respectively through UNRRA and this made possible by assistance of private welfare agencies as Church World Service, Catholic Welfare, Friends Service, YMCA and Jewish Joint Distribution. These augmented the fare with milk, chocolate and distributed cigarettes and razor blades. Mr. Alpern stayed to see adequate kitchen facilities, a laundry, showers, a swimming pool, gymnasium, kindergarten and vocational school installed.

With the breakdown of the four-power conference and greater infiltration into the American zone, the military has declared the camp must be prepared to shelter 35,000 infiltrates instead of the 3500 it now houses. "Help from U. S. welfare agencies of all denominations has been of greatest importance in restoring the moral and physical well-being of these people, 50% of whom are Catholic, 30% Protestant, 20% Jewish. Because of the Soviet block, help will need to be increased tenfold," the speaker concluded.

Mrs. Daniel Fisher, president, presided over the business session. Mrs. M. B. Rosenberg, social service chairman, reported that 5000 pounds of clothing, food and medical supplies had been collected by SOS; Mrs. Julius Cobb, 11 Chanukah boxes were shipped overseas. Mrs. R. S. Rubenson reported on current legislation and Mrs. Arch Slovansky on international relations and Mrs. Samuel Schwartz on scholarships.

Chanukah lights were kindled by Mrs. Julius Markley and Rock of Ages and America sung. Prayer was led by Mrs. Myron Milbower. Mrs. Alec Samuels, program chairman, was in charge of arrangements.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Nathan Ginsburg, Mrs. Alvin Haenick, Mrs. Eliah Kaplan, Mrs. Ben Kay, Mrs. Bernard Kline, Mrs. Nathan Land, Mrs. Ben Levin, Mrs. Daniel Levine and Mrs. Gilbert Levine.

After Mrs. George Mitchell told a Christmas story, there was a gift exchange.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Oestreicher, INS Foreign Director

The setback suffered by Communist strikers and labor agitators in France and Italy may only be temporary.

They are resourceful and hard workers, these brewers of internal and international discord, and not easily discouraged.

But for the present they have received a stunning defeat in western Europe. And there are signs that conservative elements now will move with utmost rapidity to consolidate their efforts against any early Communist resurgence.

One of the first fruits of their endeavors may be a customs union between France and Italy. This project is one that for decades has been looked upon by European internationalists as a major contribution to both peace and prosperity.

or another trying to infiltrate one country from another for devious and sometimes sinister designs.

Customs unions by no means eliminate by themselves all of Europe's ancient ills.

But they have proved beneficial wherever tried. They at least have cleared the air and resulted in closer understanding. A France and Italy thus linked together could be a powerful fusion for the forces of peace and democracy.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE SPAN OF LIFE

You can trust the life insurance people to figure out the probable average length of life in the United States; in fact, in the world, and the copies of the life table is the basis of the basis on which the actuaries work over time. It is the table from which they figure the cost of life insurance per thousand dollars and the figures are in the main correct. No one has ever seriously challenged them. They go back many, many years to learn all about longevity.

For prehistoric man, the length of life, estimated from the characteristics of fossil remains, averaged about eighteen years. By the middle of the last century, the average had risen to about forty years. The statisticians expect that within the next decade or two, the average length of life for the population of the United States will be extended to the Biblical three score and ten.

Was Pitifully Small

"The lease of life for prehistoric man was pitifully small as measured by modern standards," the statisticians comment. "This does not mean that there were none surviving to mature life, but the number of deaths in infancy and childhood were terrifyingly high. To judge by the large proportion of preserved skulls that show traces of heavy blows, death by violence seems to have been a common occurrence at that period."

"With the advance of early civilization, there appears to have been a very gradual increase in longevity," the average length of life may have been somewhere from twenty to thirty years. During the middle ages and up to the end of the eighteenth century, there is little indication of any material rise in longevity, the average for this period being somewhere around thirty-five years.

Beneficial Effect

"The rise in standard of living and the development of scientific knowledge early in the nineteenth century evidently had a beneficial effect upon longevity. By the middle of the century the average length of life advanced to forty years, and around the end of the century, the average was nearly fifty years. The great advances in the control of diseases so far this century have brought the average length of life in this country to almost sixty-six years, an increase of sixteen years in less than five decades. This record is undoubtedly without parallel in the whole range of human existence, and may never again be equaled," the statisticians comment.

Further progress is to be expected as present knowledge in medical and sanitary science is more fully utilized and as new weapons to fight disease are developed. According to the statisticians, "Within the course of the next decade or two, it should be possible to extend the average length of life for the population of the United States to at least seventy years."

Bible Thought

Blessed are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the Lord. Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart. They also do no iniquity; they walk in his ways. Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently.—Psalm 119:1, 2, 3, 4.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

The first meeting of the Jameson Memorial Hospital Expansion Fund Campaign was held yesterday at noon. Many men of the advance fight campaign attended the meeting and a very gratifying report was made. In another section of this newspaper you will read about the details, and this coming Saturday there should be some very interesting reading after the next report meeting which will be held Friday noon.

There has been considerable conversation concerning this campaign and many people have stopped into this office for some reason to discuss their thoughts. One very interesting story was given yesterday by a fellow citizen and we thought perhaps you might be interested in just how some people are going about determining the amount they wish to contribute for the expansion of the hospital. We are not in the position to give the name of the individual who had this thought, but he got us to thinking very seriously and here is what he said.

"This campaign has been set up on a 25 month basis. This was done primarily so that those who wish to contribute could take three years to deduct their contribution from their income tax. So this individual goes on to say, '25 months with an average of 30 days a month, means 750 days. If I put aside 50c a day, and the reason I say 50c a day, I am only netting $4,103.00 a year. I figure that I can contribute $375.00 to this campaign. In order to do this I have decided not to stop smoking, but to cut down on my consumption of cigarettes. Instead of buying two packs a day, not that I smoke that many but I usually buy two packs a day, I am only going to buy one pack, right there I have 20c of my 50c. The other 30c I am setting up as a definite savings plan."

This chap really has something that many of us could look up to, and he went on to give us the reason why he felt as a citizen of New Castle he should make such a contribution. One thought he gave us was this—he had faith in New Castle and he wanted New Castle to have faith in him.

Politics In Price Moves!

(By THOMAS L. STOKES)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—You may get cheaper meat and butter on your table and cheaper goods over the counter—

But not until politics is served first. And that may be a while yet. For another sample of politics, there was the sham battle the House Republican leadership staged with its so-called "anti-inflation" bill that ended up exactly nowhere, which from available evidence was just where it was supposed to end.

Instead of bringing this measure before the House with ample time for debate and with the privilege of amendment, the Republican leadership decided instead to resort to a seldom-used legislative procedure—suspension of rules. That requires a two-thirds vote for passage of a bill instead of a simple majority, permits only 40 minutes debate, 20 on each side, and bans all amendments. It's a take-it-or-leave-it matter.

Bill Fails To Pass

The bill failed of the necessary two-thirds, the vote being 202 to 188.

The circumstances seem to substantiate the charge by Democrats during the brief debate that Republicans did not expect or want the bill to pass, but only wanted to place responsibility on Democrats for defeating it, knowing that Democrats would oppose it since it fell far short of President Truman's program.

The suspension-of-rules procedure customarily is resorted to, and even then infrequently, toward the end of a session when the party in control wants to complete its legislative program, and uses it to pass bills that are not too controversial and for which it is sure it has the votes. Only rarely does it fail, for noses are counted carefully in advance. In this instance the Republican leadership must have known whether it did not, then there must have been some other reason for adopting this procedure.

Speed Is Reason

Rep. Halleck (Ind.), Republican floor leader, said the reason for what the Democrats termed "a gag rule" was speed, since Congress plans to recess Friday for Christmas, and the Senate requires more time usually. However, the bill could have been brought before the House under regular procedure with opportunity for debate and amendments and still have been acted on a couple of days. It is hard to believe the Senate would have recessed without acting on an anti-inflation measure, because of the public interest. Furthermore, Republicans demonstrated their majority for their measure in the Monday vote, even though 27 Republicans voted against it. Not a single Democrat voted for the bill.

Rep. Monroney (D., Okla.) put it rather neatly:

The Menace Of Inflation

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 17.—Mr. Truman and his Republican adversaries are now engaged in what is best characterized as a battle of half-measures.

Both sides are desperately seeking ways to combat the menace of inflation. But both sides are leery about facing up to the consequences of anti-inflation laws and regulations. Their words are bold but their actions are cautious when it comes to reaching out and seizing this big problem by the throat. Here is how the half-heartedness of both camps shows up today.

Dodging Responsibility

Mr. Truman assuredly wants a controlled economy to carry us over the present crisis. But he is dodging the responsibility of using the broad powers of his executive office. He made his position quite clear to reporters who attended his first press conference following his return from Florida. The President flatly stated that everything he'd asked Congress to do about inflation was necessary and vital. Would the passage of the Administration program—that is, a partial return to OPA—create a police state? Mr. Truman came back with a sharp answer to this query. If the program were put over by executive order or distasteful use of power—yes, that would indicate a police state. If the program were enacted by Congress—no, that wouldn't indicate a police state.

Artfully Avoiding

Meanwhile the Republicans also want emergency action against inflation. But they too are artfully avoiding the responsibility of imposing it. The Wolcott bill, introduced in the House with Senator Taft's approval, calls for "voluntary" agreements among businessmen and industrialists to put a ceiling over prices. This section of the Republican plan reads remarkably like a toothless mock-up of the old Blue Eagle, the symbol of the discredited NRA under which Mr. Roosevelt first tried to regulate industry. But instead of setting up industrial codes, the Republicans are proposing a kind of honor system under which price adjustment would soon be left to the conscience of business management.

In order to give conscience free play, the Republicans are asking a partial suspension of the anti-trust laws. Such a suspension would allow industrialists to swap favors in the interest of getting cheaper methods of production and of distribution of goods. Good or bad, the idea is too extreme for Mr. Truman's acceptance. He told reporters twice within ten minutes that the anti-trust laws would not be suspended so long as he remained President.

Half-Measures Order Of Day

Half-measures are so much the order of the day that no one can predict any foreseeable solution of the inflation problem. Both the Administration program and the Republican counter-plan await vigorous, all-out exploitation.

The very nature of Mr. Truman's 10-point strategy, as outlined in his message to Congress, calls for heavy-handed leadership from an economic Commander-in-Chief. Mr. Truman hardly seems the man to exert this sort of leadership. He lacks the cocksureness of his high-riding predecessor and he shrinks from the very thought of misusing or even over-using the powers of his office—something that certainly never kept Mr. Roosevelt awake nights.

As for the Republicans' voluntary plan, it seems about as effective as rushing to a five-alarm fire with a cup of water. It will not offend any free enterprise principles, but neither will it put out the blaze.

Unless we are content to go on hoping that the fire will burn itself out, the time has just about come to send for the firemen. As matters stand today, both parties are simultaneously seeking the credit and trying to avoid the blame of doing anything really drastic.

HEAVE A HEART

Until recently the heart was thought to be the center or source of the affections.

A man was said to be kind hearted or hard hearted. If he had generosity or affection, he was said to have a heart or perhaps a big heart. If he happened to be cruel or stingy he had no heart at all.

Although our ideas as to the seat of the emotions have changed, the heart is still a very important organ.

It seems to be able to stand a lot of work. Sometimes it may seem as though hard work damages it but disease is probably the cause of the trouble.

Sometimes the heart may be damaged by disease and not show any signs of it for many years.

The heart and blood vessels make up the circulatory or vascular system.

They are a very important part of the body. We do not know much about such things.

It seems that obesity causes a lot of the trouble for the circulatory system.

They Say

ALBANY, N. Y.—Gov. Dewey hears that the teen-age Hi-Y group passed 37 and defeated 12 bills at their annual state assembly. "That is real statesmanship. The trouble with many legislative bodies is that they pass everything and later find out what they did."

NEW YORK—Alexandre S. Pannushkin, Russia's new ambassador to the U. S., is asked if he thinks better Soviet-U. S. relations are in prospect. "Everything is possible under the sun."

BOSTON—The Rev. Sidney W. Powell of Tremont Temple, suggests revival of the Puritan scolding letter treatment for crooked politicians: "... I would stand them on Boston Common, brand with a red 'C' for crook."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Connally views the collapse of the Big Four conference in London: "It is unthinkable that the minister of four great allied countries can not bring about peace. When will it be that we shall again see peace?"

SOVIET SETBACK

The resounding licking the communists have taken in France is the best news that has come out of Europe in many months. To be sure, they quit before they were badly hurt to save their strength for their next attempt to seize power. They have learned how the government will deal with their next uprising and their strategy will be shaped to conform.

The Schuman coalition showed unexpected strength in meeting the recent crisis, because of the support it was given by other parties after the communists made the mistake of using strong-arm methods in the Chamber of Deputies. Troops were called out to quell the strikes, whose political, foreign-inspired origin was emphasized. A few grievances of strikers and non-strikers were met. Finally the communists who lead the National Confederation of Labor were forced to surrender to the rising tide of public opinion.

So the comingform's first major attempt to seize power in France has failed. Russia moved swiftly and hoped to seize control by sheer audacity. Now she has fallen on her face.

Of course, French production was hard hit. Strikers refused to unload relief ships from the United States. And communist union leaders are imploring their members to prepare for "future combats that will be tough."

But the benefits far outweigh the damage done, and the communist setback in France may prove to have been a major turning point.

EDUCATION ON WINGS

Many students find unusual occupations to aid them financially in making their way through college. But Eric Linhof, a student at New York University, probably hit upon one of the most unusual.

Linhof, a trans-Atlantic pilot, quits the lecture room on Fridays, dons a uniform of the Pan American World Airways, enters a London-bound passenger plane, and takes off. He studies a bit during his overnight stay in London.

Sometimes fog-bound London keeps him there longer than expected and he misses a class at New York University. He is booked for 35 hours' flying time each week, and he spends 14 hours in classes.

A former student at the University of Rochester, Linhof served 3½ years as an Army pilot, flying a B-24. The Army recently invited him to return to service, but he plans to enter the New York University Graduate School next fall.

Last June Linhof flew to Johannesburg, South Africa, and more recently to Leopoldville in the Belgian Congo. During his Christmas vacation he will fly to Calcutta.

When the recent war began and reports of new inventions and developments were a dime for two dozen, many persons predicted that the postwar world would be almost unrecognizable. For many people the transformation was negligible. But the tremendous increase in transoceanic flying certainly changed Linhof's mode of living.

NOT EPICURIAN

How long can a person survive without too great discomfort on a diet containing only about one-fourth of what is considered the normal number of calories?

Considerably more than a month, according to experiments conducted by Dr. David Schwimmer of New York Medical College.

For 40 days Dr. Schwimmer had 16 volunteers on a diet of 900 calories a day, about half of what striking, demonstrating Europeans are getting along on these days. Four times a day the men were fed small biscuits containing 25 per cent egg protein, 30 per cent fat and 45 per cent starch or carbohydrate. They got three glasses of water a day.

There was plenty of point to the experiment. It was to determine a stable life raft diet for the Army Quartermaster Food and Container Institute. Even a gourmet might be glad to munch little biscuits day after day if they would keep him alive for more than a month—on a life raft.

Apparently they do more than keep people alive. Dr. Schwimmer said that at the end of the 40 days his volunteers were strong enough to play ping pong and cheerful enough not to talk perpetually about beefsteak.

But the nearest restaurant must have done a sell-out business when he let them loose.

Philadelphia scientist, who obviously doesn't intend to be a candidate for public office, says there are too many fat women in this country.

French, who are reported to be rebuilding the Maginot Line, probably have figured out some way of keeping an enemy from going around the ends.

What has happened in France should be a guide for other nations. It seems the Russians get terribly offended when not permitted to take over a country.

Search For Better Poultry Nears End

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—The three-year search for a better bird to grace the dinner table of the future neared its climax today as 40 prominent poultry breeders were named finalists in the national "chicken-of-tomorrow" contest.

The championship competition, scheduled for next summer, will conclude a three-year campaign by the nation's poultry industry to find a superior breed of meat-type chicken.

Finalists in the contest were announced by the agriculture department whose personnel have helped to choose them after a series of state and regional contests.

Prize Of $5,000
A grand prize of $5,000 and runner-up awards totaling a similar amount, offered by a chain store, to encourage improved poultry-meat production, await the national winners.

Out of the contest, to be judged by representatives of the country's leading poultry organizations as well as the agriculture department, will come a blue-print for tomorrow's chick which the industry hopes will provide better value for the consumer and increased returns to the producer.

Will Hatch Eggs
In February, each finalist will ship 720 hatching eggs to a central hatchery near Georgetown, Del., the site selected for the final contests.

There, under government supervision, the eggs will be hatched and the chicks reared for a period of 12 weeks under ideal conditions. Prize-winning breeders will be announced June 24.

The largest Balsam fir on record in America is in Pocomoke City, Md. It stands 75 feet, has a spread of 41 feet and a circumference of 7 feet, 7 inches at breast height.

PROPER SIGNATURES

"Please write a detailed explanation of the 'Mrs.' and 'Miss' problem in signatures. I am mostly concerned with when to sign 'Mrs. Mary' and when 'Mrs. John' and when merely 'Mary Smith' without the 'Mrs.' Also tell us if a man ever signs his title—'Mr.' 'Dr.' or whatever it might be?"

Answer: A personal letter should never be signed "Miss," "Mr." nor "Mrs." A woman always, with the exceptions outlined below, signs her name "Mary Smith."

If the person to whom she is writing does not know how to address her, she should, if she is "Miss Smith" have (Miss) thus in parenthesis precede her name. If she is married, she should add in parenthesis under her signature (Mrs. John Smith). As I said previously, this applies only to those not knowing how to address her. The name or title in parenthesis is not a signature but merely for informative purposes. The following are the only instances when a woman properly signs herself "Mrs." or "Miss": When writing to a tradesman, to a domestic, signing a business telegram, a hotel register or in some similar impersonal circumstance. She should never, under any circumstances, sign "Mrs. Mary Smith."

Mr. John Smith should sign his name "John Smith" eliminating the "Mr." If he has a title, it may be inserted underneath on anything other than personal letters, for instance "Major U. S. Army," "Governor of New York." This may be especially done on a hotel register so that he may be properly identified, if necessary.

Question: You have answered the question as to who should take care of the out-of-town maid-of-honor and bridesmaids. Tell me who is responsible for out-of-town guests?

Answer: Although the bride's family should take care of the out-of-town bridesmaids and maid-of-honor, the guests, if they stay at a hotel, should pay their own expenses.

Present your problems to Miss Markee who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped self-addressed envelopes.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

ceive small pay in the light of present living costs. But less considerable father and children might have spent of their savings and eaten out instead.

However, it is not the economic side of the matter which counts for most. Rather it is the sharing and spirit of comradeship. See the moral values to those sons. Imagine the pride with which the mother related the information.

Care Of Children

Many a mother has been writing me of the father who participates wholeheartedly in the care and guidance of the children. For instance, one mother states at the end of her letter: "I'd like to tell you that my husband is one of those whom you would surely approve—he has done 99 per cent of the night-time getting up for children since the eldest was born six years ago (there are four younger ones), often gets Sunday dinner, in general is the biggest help possible. Since the oldest started to school he helps him with his reading so patiently and skillfully."

While the helping father lightens the mother's physical burdens, he does many times more for her morale. He proves to her that what she has to do is, in his judgment, as important as his own work. He makes her feel worthy. He cements his comradeship with her. Besides, gives them something of himself as he cares for the children he which he could not give them in other ways. As the children grow old enough to help about the home they more readily do their share because their father has always helped. Thereby these children learn to be good cooperators, contributing members of the family and gain valuable preparation for wholesome family life and parenthood in themselves by and by. My bulletin, "Fathers Are Parents, Too," may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 43rd street, New York, N. Y.

Hjalmar Carlson, a tailor, of St. Paul, Minn., often wondered how many stitches there were in a suit of clothes, so he counted them. Carlson says there are 29,888 in a coat, 9561 in pants, and 7740 in a vest.

In 1940 more than a quarter of the people of the United States were either foreign born or the children of foreign born people.

Jet Engine Model 'Plane Of Future'

By JOHN CAMSELL

LONDON.—(INS)—Following the recent successful tests of Britain's plane of the future—a tailless, jet engine model—plans are being made to commence production of prototypes of bomber and transport "flying wings."

After the "flying wing" 20 minute flight on wind swept Boscomb Down, the Ministry of Supply announced that the test "realized all designers' expectations."

The whole of its load-carrying space and control compartments, engines and gas tanks, are contained in its wings.

Sqdn-Leader E. G. Franklin, senior test pilot of Armstrong-Whitworth, took the "flying-wing" off and put it through its paces. Scientists are convinced that its design is the only possible one for fast and economic flight in the future. The Ministry of Supply spokesman, afterwards stated: "The plane should be regarded as a research aircraft, which will provide a lot of most useful information for our scientific research workers and aeronautical manufacturers."

NATION'S OLDEST PATRIOTIC ORDER OBSERVES CENTURY

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17.—(INS)—The Patriotic Order Sons of America, the nation's oldest patriotic organization, founded in Philadelphia December 10, 1847, has completed a century of service.

The organization celebrated its 100th anniversary with dedication of a war memorial commemorating the 5000 members from this state who served in the late war, and honoring the 100 who gave their lives. After the dedication, a banquet was held.

Gelbert was a simple monk of Aurillac, France, who by sheer force of intellect rose to the archiepiscopal sees of Rheims and Ravenna, bore a leading part in the transfer of the French town of Carlingford to the Capets, and finally died in 1003 as Pope Sylvester II.

Austin Accuses Soviet Union

Charges "Economic" Chaos Is Being Utilized To Promote Political Enslavement"

RUSSIA BELIEVES IT CAN SCARE U. S.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—(INS)—Warren R. Austin, United States representative to the United Nations, charged Tuesday that "economic chaos is being utilized to promote political enslavement."

The former senator from Vermont bluntly accused the Soviet Union of contributing to economic chaos by its active campaign against the European recovery plan.

To Make Recovery Fail
He charged that the recent strikes and sabotage in France and Italy are part of Soviet policy designed to make the recovery plan fail.

Austin addressed the 29th annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation meeting in Chicago.

Austin asserted: "The Communists believe they can make any aid that is extended too little and too late. They believe they can create conditions that will frighten America away from investing in the future of Europe."

"They even believe they can scare our congress and our people. But out of my own experience I can say that the people and the congress are not easily frightened." Noting a bright spot in the picture, Austin declared that the "workers are rejecting Communist efforts to exploit their legitimate economic grievances for Communist political purposes."

Aims Are Exposed
"The aims of these disruptive forces have been exposed. Their strength has been shown to be less than many believed them to be, and the unity they have forged among the freedom-loving peoples may prove to be an asset that will outweigh the material losses."

As an example of how political obstructionism can block economic progress, Austin cited disagreements between the Russians and the western powers on the German and Austrian peace treaties.

He asserted that failure to reach agreements on these peace treaties has deprived the European economy of "one of its richest sources of both food and coal."

Austin characterized Secretary of State Marshall's now-famous speech at Harvard last summer as an idea rather than a plan.

He said that it was an idea that gave Europe renewed hope and spurred its leaders to new and bold action.

Original Idea
Austin added that the idea originally was intended to embrace the entire continent of Europe—including the Soviet Union and its satellites.

Austin told the 5,000 delegates, who represent more than a million of the nation's farmers, that it is impossible to guarantee that the European recovery plan will succeed. He added:

"But the risk is a carefully calculated one. It is a good bit like the risk you take when you plant your crops . . . you know that failure to plant would—as surely as pigs eat corn—result in far greater risks and far greater hardships."

"I believe the Marshall plan will succeed. I believe a harvest of freedom is germinating."

Lock Up Eisler Is Demand Of Rep. McDowell

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—Rep. McDowell (R) Pa., a member of the house un-American activities committee, demanded on Tuesday that Gerhardt Eisler be placed in confinement to prevent his "preaching pure treason and sedition" on American college campuses.

McDowell said in a statement in the Congressional Record that President Truman should order the justice department to lock up Eisler, alleged No. 1 communist in the United States, at the Ellis Island, N. Y., immigration center.

The congressman advocated that U. S. authorities hold Eisler in custody until his case is disposed of by the courts. Eisler has been convicted of contempt of congress and passport fraud but is free pending appeal.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 17.—(INS)—A ship with the radio call letters XNSA sent out a radio distress call today, saying she had run aground in the Ryukyu Islands. The vessel was identified as the former LST (Landing Ship Tanks) 1059, owned by the Morrison Knudsen Company of Shanghai, according to the Shanghai Coast Guard radio station.

Youthful Bandit Nabbed On Trolley

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 17.—(INS)—A 19-year-old youth who, police said, robbed a store of $475, wrecked a stolen car and was captured in an officer's "hunch" on a streetcar, was held in Pittsburgh city jail today.

It was Patrolman Thomas Madden whose "hunch" led to the youth's capture.

He found the car in which he fled wrecked against the barrier at the end of a dead-end street. He drove to another street and stopped an oncoming streetcar.

When he boarded it the youth, Richard Corham of Pittsburgh, attempted to pull a gun, but was disarmed.

He admitted the $475 robbery and six others during the past week, police said.

Three Powers May Confer On Germany Soon

Britain, France And U. S.
May Have Conference On Western Germany's Fate

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 17. — A three-power conference in Washington shortly after the new year to determine the fate of western Germany arose as a possibility following breakdown of the Big Four Foreign Ministers meeting.

First informal discussions along this line were expected this evening when Secretary of States Marshall dined with French Foreign Minister Bidault at the French embassy.

Bidault himself said in an interview that a merger of the three western zones of Germany is "no longer impossible." But no formal negotiations are anticipated until after the holidays.

Molotov Says No Farewells

Bidault is expected to see Foreign Secretary Bevin before he returns to Paris. Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov left the British capital by air without saying farewell to anyone.

Marshall met with Bidault at a moment when repercussions of the conference break-up were widespread. Reports in London told of a virtual stampede of refugees from the Soviet occupation zone to western Germany. The Austrian cabinet held a special session at which Chancellor Leopold Figl termed the collapse "deplorable."

Bidault is known to want a meeting of the three foreign ministers in Washington in January. No decision has been made and there is some question as to whether British Foreign Secretary Bevin would be willing to make the journey.

Belief prevails in British quarters that an understanding probably could be reached at a lower level involving experts.

French Situation
Highly authoritative French sources told International News Service that Bidault intends to outline the French situation to Marshall as follows:

1—France will cooperate with the United States and Britain in western Germany but is reluctant at present to agree to an outright merging of zones. The French government is unwilling to become involved in the "Bi-Zonia" deficit which Marshall has estimated at 700 million dollars annually.

2—France wants to participate in control of the Ruhr and favors strict technical supervision at factory level rather than by a top policy board as advocated by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor of Germany.

3—France wants assurances of a greatly increased allocation of coal from Germany.

4—France is opposed to establishment of a German government at Frankfurt or anywhere else in the western zones.

If Marshall and Bevin accept these conditions Bidault is willing to have experts work out details in closest possible cooperation.

Senate Probers To Ask Report Made On China

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—

The senate appropriations committee will ask Lieut. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer today to reveal the contents of his long-suppressed report on the Chinese political-economic crisis.

Chairman Bridges (R) N. H., said he would ask for the details of Wedemeyer's report to President Truman when the general appears before the committee today at hearings on China's need for stop-gap aid.

Secretary of State Marshall already has rejected a house committee's attempt to get the Wedemeyer report, with the explanation that to reveal it would be contrary to public interest. State department sources said that parts of the report would "never be revealed."

But Bridges told reporters that he considered the report a factor in determining any Chinese aid program and that he intended to ask the general for it. The report is rumored to contain some highly explosive comment on the troubled political situation in China.

Milliken Heads Township Firemen

Annual Election Is Conducted Last Night By Neshannock Township Department

At the annual election meeting of the Neshannock township fire department, held Tuesday evening in the fire station, Russ D. Milliken was elected president for the coming year, succeeding Merle M. Brooks. James W. Messner was re-elected chief.

Other officers named for 1948 are: vice president, Riley L. Bolard; treasurer, Thomas Smathers; secretary, John Campbell; financial secretary, Claude C. Crill; assistant chief, William J. Fox; director, M. M. "Cy" Ingham.

A new portable auxiliary pump was purchased at last night's meeting, which will greatly add to the efficiency of the department, enabling it to pump water a greater distance. It can be used either with the truck or independently.

Following the business meeting, an oyster stew was enjoyed by the members.

The new officers will be installed at the meeting of the department on January 20.

WOMAN INJURED IN FALL AT HER HOME

Mrs. Grace Taylor, of R. D. 1, Ellwood City, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital for injuries received when she fell in the cellar of her home, early Tuesday evening.

Examination at the hospital revealed a fracture and dislocation of the right arm at the shoulder.

Enon Valley Barn Fire Loss Great

ENON VALLEY, Dec. 17.—It has not been determined as yet what the loss will be in the disastrous fire that completely destroyed the barn of Joseph B. Hostetter located on the John Yoder farm three miles from the New Castle-Enon Valley road.

The fire which was first discovered around 11 a. m. last Friday, completely destroyed nine head of cattle, four horses, large quantities of hay, and grain along with several pieces of farm machinery. By the time Darlington and New Galilee firemen arrived on the scene, the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible for them to do anything but stand by and save other buildings.

Neighbors valiantly attempted to release the cattle and horses, but spreading flames drove them back. The loss is a severe one as the owner carried no insurance on the building. No cause for the fire has been ascertained.

Seek Curtailing Exporting Of Oil

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—

Sen. Hawkes (R) N. J., appealed to four government departments today to take further steps to curtail the use and export of heating oil for the next four months.

Hawkes, a member of a Senate Committee Investigating the fuel shortage, said that he had been informed by "very responsible sources engaged in the oil business" that the United States is "still exporting substantial quantities of oil."

The Senator made his statement in letters to Secretary of the Army Royall, Secretary of the Navy Sullivan, Secretary of the Interior Krug and Secretary of Commerce Harriman.

More interest has been taken in pears in Europe than anywhere else. Five thousand kinds of pears are grown there, as compared with about 1,000 kinds in North America. France is the leading pear country in Europe.

Contend 'Hidden Power' Forced Premier Tojo To Start United States War

By FRANK EMERY
(U.S. staff correspondent)

TOKYO, Dec. 17.—Japan's former Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo Monday blamed what he called "mismanagement" in Washington for the delay in delivery of the Japanese 1941 war declaration until a half hour after the Pearl Harbor attack began.

The assertion was made in a statement opening the individual defense of Togo at the Tokyo war crimes trial. The statement was read by Togo's American lawyer, Ben Bruce Blakeney.

As the long trial reached this stage, Japan's so-called "Pearl Harbor premier" Hideki Tojo was prepared to launch his own personal defense which is expected to climax the proceedings before the International Far East tribunal.

Tojo Follows Shortly
Under the prevailing alphabetical order, it will be Tojo's turn after Togo's defense is completed. Togo held the foreign affairs portfolio in Tojo's "Pearl Harbor cabinet."

Togo's defense started off on a note of self-justification in which the erstwhile foreign minister sought to wash his hands of any share of the responsibility for the surprise nature of the Pearl Harbor assault that turned the recent war into a global conflict.

In the opening statement read by Blakeney was the assertion that Togo in those fateful early December days of 1941 had insisted on the usual diplomatic procedure in Japan's tense dealings with the United States.

Argued In Vain
It was argued he had maintained the stand the United States should be notified formally of the termination of the peace negotiations then in progress in Washington before the launching of armed hostilities.

Togo won this point over the opposition of the Japanese high command, according to the statement.

In an affidavit, Togo pointed out he had resigned from the Tojo cabinet within 11 months after he joined it. The implication was that his resignation stemmed from his differences with Tojo over the latter's war policies.

Joined Surrender Group
It was not until 1945, during the last weeks of the war, Togo further declared, that he went back into the Japanese government. And then, he deplored, he joined the Kantaro Suzuki cabinet as foreign minister only on condition that that cabinet would end the war.

That was what is known as Japan's "surrender cabinet." Earlier in today's session, Tojo's wartime chief cabinet planner, Teiichi Suzuki, wound up his defense with the declaration that the "Pearl Harbor premier" was forced into the Pacific war by a "hidden power." He failed to identify that "power."

'Hidden Power'
Suzuki testified that he and former Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye believed Tojo would have been able to check the Japanese army's "war faction" but for that "hidden power or force that was pressing him."

Under cross-examination Suzuki contended that "up to a certain point" Tojo had been an "ardent advocate" of continuing negotiations with the United States.

Will Light Huge Christmas Tree In Harrisburg Monday

HARRISBURG, Dec. 17.—(INS)—The Yuletide season will be heralded officially at the State Capitol Monday with the annual Christmas tree lighting ceremony presided over by Gov. James H. Duff.

A 22-foot blue spruce has been set up and trimmed in the rotunda. Mrs. Duff will throw a switch illuminating the giant tree at 11:45 a. m. as signal for observance of the Christmas season by the commonwealth's employees.

Duff, flanked by most of his cabinet members, probably will deliver a brief Christmas message and start a round of carol singing.

VFW Has Picked Pittsburgh For '48 Encampment

HARRISBURG, Dec. 17.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars today named Pittsburgh as the site of its 1948 state encampment July 7 to 10.

State Commander Frank C. Hilton announced more than 5000 delegates were expected to attend the organization's 29th annual convention.

Pointing out that the encampment will be the third post-war meeting of the Pennsylvania VFW, Hilton declared that present day problems "are as momentous and serious as any posed during the war years."

"We must find a way and the means now of keeping the peace for which we fought," he said. "I know that the 1948 VFW Encampment will give this its deepest consideration."

Hilton said preliminary details of the convention will be decided upon during an organizational meeting of the encampment corporation committee at Pittsburgh, December 21.

Worldwide in distribution, scarlet fever is most prevalent during late fall, winter and spring, and although it may occur at any age, it is usually seen in children under 10 years of age or over one year.

Slacks Battle In Camden School Is Interesting Case

Enraged Father Hires Counsel, Will Fight Edict Of School Principal—Slacks Hater

CAMDEN, N. Y., Dec. 17.—(INS)—The mid-state community of Camden, N. Y., was divided into two noisily argumentative camps today over the right of a 14-year-old girl to wear slacks to school.

Thomas Delahunt, employee of the General Cable Corp., threatens to file charges with the state department of education against Donald H. Barker, central school principal, over the "no slacks" rule.

Barker sent Delahunt's daughter Jeanette back home Tuesday "to get a dress" when she wore brown woolen slacks to school. Yesterday Delahunt escorted the girl—still wearing the brown slacks—to school.

Barker said she would be segregated from the other eighth grade children and given special instruction as long as she wore slacks.

Will Hire Lawyer
Delahunt said that special but isolated instruction for Jeanette would be discriminatory and he announced he would retain counsel to fight for his rights after taking Jeanette home.

Jeanette is the oldest of six Delahunt children.

Barker said that the "no slacks" rule was established by the school board "many years ago" and that he has no authority to change it.

In Albany, the state department of education attorney, Dr. Charles A. Brind, said a school has no control over school clothing "as long as the children are dressed decently."

Dr. Brind emphasized, however, that a child could be disciplined for wearing clothes which would create a disturbance and interfere with the running of a classroom.

Canadian Tug Runs Aground
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(INS)—The Canadian Tug Snohomish, bound from Seattle to Buenos Aires, Argentina, radioed an "S. O. S." today that she was grounded on San Marcos shoal, 250 miles east southeast of Belem, Brazil.

New York Coast Guard headquarters which received the call for help as relayed by a Brazilian steamer, said the shoal is in San Marcos bay, just off the regular steamers lanes.

California Sending Relief To Europe

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 17.—(INS)—Gov. Earl Warren Tuesday disclosed plans to send the training ship "Golden Bear" of the California Maritime academy to Europe next month with 1,500 tons of food and clothing for needy persons in France, Italy and Greece.

The ship will be manned by 100 youths from the academy, who will make the journey as a substitute for their annual training cruise to South American waters.

Maurice Sparring, state superintendent of banks and a former naval officer, has been placed in charge of collecting voluntary contributions from Californians. The ship will be loaded at Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego, beginning Jan. 15.

Date for return has been set tentatively as May 20.

Demands Pauley Resign His Post

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—Rep. Andresen (R) Minn., demanded Tuesday that Edwin W. Pauley immediately resign his post as special assistant to Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall.

Andresen, in a house speech, accused the California oil man of having "violated the trusts of the American people."

The congressman announced that he was introducing a resolution calling on the agriculture committee to investigate speculation in grain futures on the commodity exchanges.

Andresen urged an immediate inquiry into trading by both "public and private individuals" as necessary "to protect the economy and integrity of the country and public officials."

The Minnesotan told the house that Pauley has said he would "resign when he is ready."

Andresen declared: "I demand that he resign at once because he has violated a trust of the American people."

Simplify Plan To Send Gifts Overseas By Air

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—The government today announced simplified procedures for shipping gift parcels overseas by air.

The Commerce Department said that any gift package weighing not more than 22 pounds and containing not more than five dollars' worth of fats, oils, soaps, streptomycin, quinine, sulfate and quinine hydrochloride may be shipped by general export license.

The general license replaces the individual license previously required. The main effect of the new procedure will be to expedite shipments through the cutting of "red tape" necessary to process individual licenses.

At the same time, the Census Bureau declared that many of the questions on the shipper's export declaration for gift packages under $100 may be left unanswered. About all the sender needs to do now is sign his name—the rest of the information is filled in by the airlines.

The government had been requested by the major airlines to relieve some of the paper work connected with sending gift parcels by air.

Brothers Avoid New Tricycle Of Accident Victim

BOSTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—The young brothers of 5-year-old Stephen Barnes avoided today the shiny red Christmas tricycle he will never ride.

As long as Stephen never will ride it, his brothers won't want it.

The tricycle was delivered to the Barnes' home in east Boston just before the grim message that he had been killed under a street car was delivered to his mother.

Witnesses told the mother, Mrs. Marguerite Barnes, that Stephen darted in front of the street car and was killed while playing a game of "holdup."

Stephen is survived in addition to his mother, by his father, Russell, a navy veteran, and his brothers, David, 7, Robert, 4, and William, 2.

SODALITY GROUP PLANS FOR PARTY

St. Joseph's Sodality members will have their installation and Christmas party on Thursday evening, December 18, at 8:15 o'clock, in the church hall.

Chairman is Jean Mommelle, and she has arranged an entertaining evening of dancing, gift exchange, and dainty refreshments served later.

Two Former Clerks In Revenue Bureau Await Sentence

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 17.—(INS)—Two women, former clerks in the Internal Revenue Department at Newark, are awaiting sentence Dec. 26 after pleading nolle contendere to a charge of destroying 400 income tax reports.

The clerks, Mrs. Arlene Green-span, 21, and Mrs. Yetta Greenstein, 19, said they flushed 400 withholding tax reports down in lavatory Feb. 17 to lighten their work.

They were arraigned before Federal Judge Guy L. Fike on a charge of destroying government property. They face a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

All of the reports were in the $8,000-$10,000 income bracket. It is estimated up to 800 thousand reports must now be checked to ascertain which ones are missing.

Holiday Services At Mission Covenant

Several holiday programs have been planned for members of the Mission Covenant church, Bessemer. A candlelight service, sponsored by the Youngstown Salvation Army, will be conducted in the church Thursday evening, December 18, at 8 o'clock. The service was written by Mrs. Alfhild Hedlund. A special offering will be received for the Salvation Army.

The church choir will offer a sacred Christmas concert Sunday evening, December 21, at 7:30 o'clock. Christmas Matins, or the traditional Swedish "Julotta," will be conducted in the sanctuary Christmas morning at 6 o'clock. The Bible school will present a program Sunday evening, December 28, at 7 o'clock.

Conduct Unique Tests For Heating

MINNEAPOLIS.—(INS)—Heat where it is needed, and not up near the ceiling, will help thousands of American homeowners get through the coming winter in comfort with no increase in fuel consumption, a university research study reveals.

Results of a unique test conducted by the research foundation at Purdue university show that most heating discomfort stems from the accumulation of heat at ceilings while temperature at the "living levels" frequently is chilly.

Using two identical test houses, the study was conducted to compare conventional heating equipment with a new control system developed by the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company. In the conventional house, temperature variations were 75 per cent greater at the breathing level than in the house using the new control.

Known as moduflow, the new control system was designed to end cold and drafty floors by balancing the heat input into a home with the loss of heat through doors, walls and windows. In the Purdue tests, floor temperatures averaged three degrees, compared with 12 degrees for the conventional house. Not only were ceilings cooler and floors warmer, but the variation between floor and ceiling averaged 10 degrees less in the moduflow home.

About half the total consumption of liquefied gas in the United States goes into domestic uses. Of the rest, nearly a quarter of the total is used in the manufacture of chemicals.

Choir Records Religious Music

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(INS)—A special album of religious music, featuring compositions by the great medieval masters, recently was released by Victor Records.

The Dujarie Choir, composed of 40 members of the Brothers of the Congregation of the Holy Cross, recorded eight of the finest polyphonic numbers written by the 16th and 17th century composers.

Choir Requested to Sing

The choir was requested to make the recordings by the students of Notre Dame at whose religious functions the choir usually sings. The choir sings at the Sacred Heart Church located on the campus.

Among the works are: Vittoria's "Ave Maria," and Grassi's "Laudate Dominum."

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 17.—Hollywood is keeping a "Badman" Barton MacLane so busy he's going to have to build himself a second home.

For the past ten years Bart's real home has been his 2,000-acre cattle ranch at Yosemite, 260 miles from Hollywood. He's always stayed there except when he's in a picture. Then he and the missus live in a room at a relative's house in the San Fernando valley.

Misses His Ranch
Winding up 1947 in Allied Artists' western comedy, "The Tenderfoot", Bart has realized suddenly that this year he's spent only one month at his ranch and 11 months in Hollywood.

He said: "I've got to do something about it. I can fly so I considered commuting by air. But, the country ranch is so rolling that I'd have to build an airport about 40 miles from the house. By the time I drove to an airport here, and then drove from any airport I could build to the ranch house it would take too much time.

"I guess the only thing I can do is to build a small house in Hollywood so my wife and I can have a good place to live while I'm working in pictures."

Linda Gets Warning

Linda Darnell got a warning from a policeman the other evening and it's all the fault of her husband, cameraman Pev Marley. Linda laughingly told me about it on the set of "The Walls of Jericho" at 20th Century-Fox.

"Pev is just like some of the youngsters when it comes to automobiles," she said. "He loves to hop them up. He took my brand new car and put twin carburetors and twin exhaust pipes on it. I was driving merrily home from work when a motorcycle policeman pulled me over to the curb and gave me a warning. He said the pipes made too much noise."

Enjoys Auto Tour

Broderick Crawford is playing one of the leading roles in "Sealed Verdict" at Paramount after the most enjoyable vacations he and Mrs. Crawford have had in a long time.

The toured by automobile in easy stages up the Pacific coast to British Columbia.

Rita Real Trouper

Rita Hayworth is still being plagued by neuralgia in her left shoulder she contracted on location at cold and windy Lone Pine for "The Loves of Carmen". She's a girl who'll try to work whether she feels well or not.

Cecil B. DeMille Loses Court Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—(INS)—The California supreme court ruled Tuesday against film producer Cecil B. DeMille in his fight against a union assessment which caused him to give up a $93,000-a-year radio show in 1944.

A unanimous state supreme court decision affirmed a ruling by Superior Judge Emmett H. Wilson of Los Angeles denying a restraining order sought by DeMille against the American Federation of Radio Artists.

The supreme court decision flatly rejected DeMille's claim that the assessment violated his constitutional right of suffrage, freedom of speech, press and assembly.

Make Protest On Presence Of Forces Of Arabs

JERUSALEM, Dec. 17.—(INS)—A spokesman for the Jewish agency was reported today to have made a strong protest to the British high commissioner for Palestine against the presence of Arab Legion forces near Jewish settlements in the Holy Land.

Mrs. Golda Meyerson, head of the Jewish agency's political department, visited the high commissioner, Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham this morning and was understood to have made the protest.

Mrs. Meyerson also was reported to have pointed out that there is insufficient security along Palestine's main roads and inadequate equipment in Jewish settlements to cope with any Arab assaults.

Settlement police were understood to have sent a joint request to the government to allow Hagana, military arm of the Jewish agency, to take over security duties in guarding Jewish convoys.

Follow Attacks

The representations to the British followed an attack by an Arab camel corps on three isolated Jewish settlements in the southern Palestine desert which is to be part of the Jewish state under the partition plan.

The 19-year-old daughter of Mrs. Meyerson was reported injured slightly in an attack on the village of Revivim, where the headman, Arien Yechieli, a refugee from Nazi Germany, was slain.

The greatest fear was expressed for residents of the tiny community of Halutza where it was reported that all 45 persons living in the town may have been massacred.

Details regarding the incidents at Revivim, Halutza and Betheshel arrived slowly since telephone connections with the villages were cut by saboteurs.

Three Jewish settlement police, escorting a convoy to Halutza, were slain by Arab desert riders who intercepted the convoy.

MARINE AUXILIARY CHRISTMAS DINNER

Members of the Marine Corps League auxiliary held their annual Christmas dinner in the green room of the Y. W. C. A., a full course turkey dinner being enjoyed by candlelight. The tables were beautifully decorated under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth Brown.

The favors and centerpieces were made by Richard Donley, a student of the Pittsburgh Art Institute. The invocation was given by the chaplain, Ruth Brown.

A program followed the dinner with Mrs. Sabina Suber acting as toastmistress. Mrs. Gladys Winslow, president of the auxiliary, gave a few words of welcome to the group.

Hospital aide chairman Mrs. Marie Berner told of the Christmas gifts that had been sent by the auxiliary to the Deshon hospital, Butler, and to the Chelsea naval hospital in Massachusetts.

Cecil Suber, the first commandant of the Marine Corps league recalled when the auxiliary was formed and later Mrs. Anne Castelle, first president of the auxiliary, spoke of their work.

Greetings were extended to the auxiliary by George Jones, commandant of the league; Mrs. G. Jones, Sgt. Edder Bennett and Sgt. Horne of the marine recruiting office, who were guests. Another guest was Mrs. Sara Kesnatalo of Finland, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Anna Johnson, a member of the auxiliary.

Janice McAllen gave a reading, "Is There a Santa Claus?" and little Miss Martin played Christmas carols on her accordion.

Much of the success of the dinner goes to Mrs. Effie McAllen, committee chairman, who was assisted by Mrs. Sabina Suber and Mrs. Marie Metz. Door prizes went to Fred Berner and Mrs. George Jones.

Declares Hirohito Wanted To Call Off Pacific War

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Dec. 17.—A major defendant in the Tokyo war crimes trial testified today that Emperor Hirohito wanted to end the Pacific conflict less than three months after it started with the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

The emperor's wish for peace, however, was kept secret and blocked by Prime Minister Hideki Tojo and the Marquis Kido, Keeper of the Privy Seal, according to the defendant, former Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo.

Togo gave this spectacular testimony immediately after he mounted the witness stand to defend himself personally against charges he shared in responsibility for igniting the Pacific war and for crimes against humanity.

Dr. Darlington Taken By Death

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Dec. 17.—(INS)—Medical circles in Pennsylvania today mourned the passing of Dr. Horace H. Darlington, 90, one of the state's outstanding physicians.

The prominent Cockeville doctor died at his home in the nearby Delaware county community last night. He had been bedridden for the past two years.

Dr. Darlington, who practiced medicine in Cockeville for 65 years, also was nationally known as a breeder of race horses, particularly trotters.

He was regarded as the typical country doctor and for many years he drove three double teams of horses over the back roads of Chester and Delaware counties to visit his patients.

Salvation Army Making Plans For Christmas

Many families throughout the city, who would otherwise celebrate Christmas as just one more day, will be rejoicing a week from tomorrow because the Salvation Army did not forget them.

Although the Army and its corps of workers toil silently but effectively throughout most of the year, a few weeks before Christmas the program of the workers goes into high gear, with the result that many needy and indigent families are cheered through their efforts.

Raising Funds

The familiar jingle of the Salvation Army worker's bells has already been heard on the city streets for many days as the volunteers stand by the traditional kettles awaiting contributions which will be turned into food, clothing and toys. The custom of seeking funds through the kettle system began a number of years ago when Commander McIntyre, of Boston, was besieged with more requests for relief than he could handle. Although looked upon as humorous during its inception, the idea spread throughout America and even to England.

In addition to the local kettles, 50 boxes have been distributed throughout the stores of the city where loose change may be put in for the work of the Army. Telephone calls are being received daily by contributors who desire to have their contribution picked up. On Friday, December 19, 100 Christmas checks in varied amounts will be mailed out to needy families who will be enabled to purchase Christmas food for their tables. Many gifts have been wrapped for the residents of the Lawrence County Home and will be distributed during the program there on Tuesday evening, December 23.

Toy Shop Busy

The toy shop is one of the busiest departments of the local Army headquarters on Jefferson street. Through the generosity of Sears, Haneys and Murphy's many toys have been received to be distributed. Many also have been purchased in wholesale quantities to augment those that have been donated. Through the Department of Public Assistance, which has supplied names of 100 needy families the most needy children will receive the toys selected by their mother. The Salvation Army relief rolls have also turned up a number of names. Five toys will be presented to each child.

In addition to the toys, the boys and girls will receive, apples, oranges, candy and a copy of the War Cry. The annual Christmas program will be presented local citizens on Tuesday evening, December 23, when a program will be presented and toys distributed to the Sunday school children.

The work at the local Salvation Army headquarters is supervised by Adjutant Thelma Dundon and Captain Betty Goldhart.

URGE PRODUCTION OF MORE FAL LMILK

Need for more milk during the fall months still exists in most sections of Pennsylvania according to R. H. Olmstead, extension dairy specialists of the Pennsylvania State College.

Considerable work has been done during the past 2 or 3 years by Pennsylvania dairymen to increase fall production. Market needs, however, have not been fully met for these critical months.

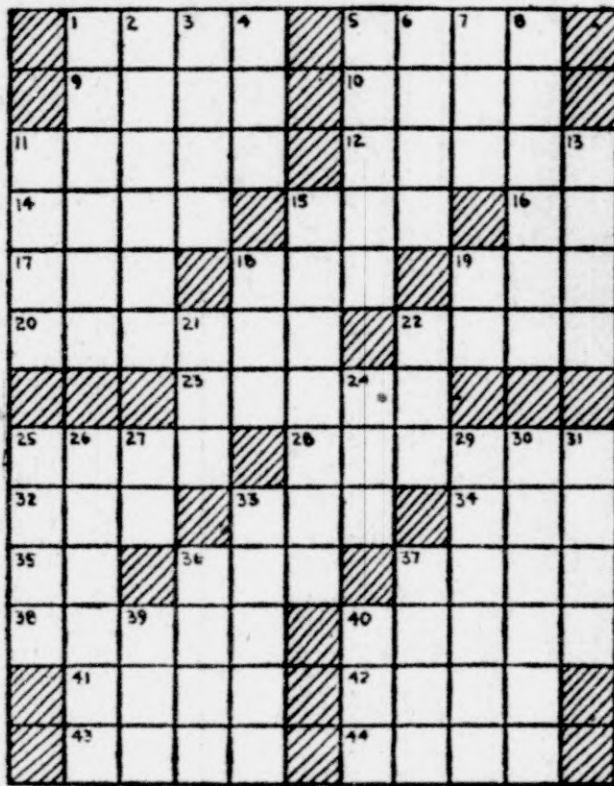

Now is the time to be thinking about fall freshenings next year. Cows and heifers bred during the early winter months will freshen next fall. Heifers that might be bred this month may well be held off until December or January. If breeding of heifers is planned for March or April, the date can be stepped up to December, January, or February if they are now fifteen months old and well grown. Any change that can be made in breeding to have a few more cows and heifers freshen during the fall months will be most helpful.

MILLIONS INVOLVED IN COAL MINE SALE

INDIANA, Pa., Dec. 17.—(INS)—Dr. Charles J. Potter, vice-president of the Rochester-Pittsburgh Coal Co., announced today that his company had completed negotiations for purchases of the four-state mine from the Christopher Co., Morgantown, W. Va. The sale, which will involve "several million" dollars, includes the mine and 4,000 acres of property and is subject only to a title search, Dr. Potter said.

China Is Sending

New Note To Reds

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—Chinese Ambassador Wellington Koo revealed Tuesday that his government has sent a new note to Russia seeking to break the deadlock over the Japanese peace conference.

Koo said that China's most recent proposal reaffirms her original position that the Pacific treaty should be drafted by the eleven Far Eastern commission nations with concurrence of the United States, China, Britain and Russia.

Following a lengthy conference with Assistant Secretary of State Norman Armour, Koo told reporters that the United States has expressed no opinion on either the Chinese proposal or a Russian demand for a peace conference composed of the council of foreign ministers to be held in China next month.

The first mint probably was established in Lydia, a district of Asia Minor, toward the end of the eighth century, B. C. Here the coming of gold, silver and electrum, an alloy of gold and silver, was carried on.

Treasury Getting Ready To Print Some New Currency

Fast-Moving American Dollar Bills Need Replacing Are Wearing Out Too Fast.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—The treasury department has decided that the fast-moving American dollar bills are wearing out too fast and should be replaced more rapidly with newly-printed currency.

The department is going to cut the lifespan of the dollar bill, which stayed in circulation for an average of 11½ months during the war, to nine months.

Treasury experts are mapping plans now. They hope to print one billion, 140 million pieces of currency in all denominations this year and a similar amount next year.

No Emergencies Now

In addition, they also will ask congress shortly for permission to print 140 million pieces to implement current program.

Officials, obviously concerned over the condition of American currency, said that during the war the bureau of engraving and printing was too busy making war bonds to bother about money.

Furthermore wartime paper conservation measures generally forced authorities to lengthen the life of paper money.

Now, however, there are no emergencies requiring priorities. The appearance of more new crisp one dollar bills is on the way, but officials can not estimate when they will go into circulation.

A spokesman said that the life of currency is arbitrary but that most money usually "gets soggy" after nine months.

Opportunities in Field Artillery Unit Explained By Capt. Alfred F. Barnes

Recently representatives of the local 229th Field Artillery Bn., under the command of Lt. Col. George F. Mitchell, spoke to an assembly of Senior H. S. boys explaining the various phases of the National Guard. Captain Alfred F. Barnes, who is also the vocational English instructor at Senior H. S., explained the objectives, and went into a brief history of the National Guard. He also explained the pay scale, various basic equipment used by the local 229th unit, just what the Guardsmen do at night and what they do at summer encampment.

The young men showed keen interest in the local unit and from all indications many of them will welcome the opportunity of joining the 229th.

A Chicago man might have gotten away with marijuana valued at $25,000 in Austin, Texas, except for a small detail. He was driving a car with 1946 Illinois license plates. That caused two highway patrolmen to stop him. The marijuana was contained in two small barrels.

Investment Broker Commits Suicide In New York Hotel

Thomas P. Durell, 60, High In Democratic Circles, Kills Self With Shotgun

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(INS)—Thomas P. Durell, investment banker high in Democratic councils, committed suicide Tuesday in his two-room suite on the eleventh floor of the Hotel Fairfax.

Durell, 60, clad in pajamas, had placed the muzzle of a 12-gauge Winchester repeating shotgun in his mouth and with his big toe tripped the trigger. The explosion, heard throughout the hotel, blew away his head.

A terse note read: "Please notify my brother, Ralph B. Durell, 324 E. 41st St."

The brother, an executive of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., was summoned and identified the body.

Friend of Farley's
After a preliminary examination detectives said financial difficulties may have been a motive for the suicide.

Durell, former treasurer of the Democratic committee, was named by James A. Farley in 1944 to the finance division of the national committee. A photograph was found in the room, autographed: "To my dear friend Tom—Jim Farley."

Durell headed the Andora Trading Co., investment bankers. He had been a director of many other concerns, including RKO and the Ogden Corp., and formerly was president of the Utilities Elkhorn Coal Co. of Kentucky.

Steel Production Situation Is Not Much Different

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(INS)—Iron Age said today that the demand of administration leaders and others for legislative allocation controls in the steel industry reveals unfamiliarity with current steel market conditions.

The national working weekly pointed out that with few exceptions, the tight steel supply, the current gray market and the condition of the raw material picture are no different than they have been for months on end.

It stressed also that the carrying out of the Marshall plan, so far as steel is concerned, will not create any tighter situation than has already been brought about by urgent steel exports during all of 1947.

The publication disclosed that hundreds of steel users are still finding it difficult to obtain as much as they think is necessary to maintain schedules to meet demand for manufactured products.

Getting More Steel

It noted, however, that most of these companies on an actual tonnage basis are getting somewhat more steel than they were a year ago.

Iron Age stressed that because of continuing demand, it may be many months before steel supplies will even remotely catch up with total steel requirements.

The Iron Age heavy melting steel scrap composite price declined 50 cents a gross ton this week to $39.75. This continues a gradual decline over the past seven weeks from the record level of $42.58 a gross ton reached during the last week of October.

The steel ingot rate held unchanged this week at 98 per cent of rated capacity.

Nursing Service Cost At Hospital $140,000 In Year

Biggest single item of expense in any hospital is nursing service. Shortage of nurses and other problems which have handicapped service in past few years are now being overcome at Jameson Memorial hospital.

Sickness dulls the average observer's eyes, and even if it didn't, most of the vital work in a hospital goes on behind the scenes, where patients and visitors don't see it.

Most of us think of the "women in white" when we think of a hospital.

But actually, what do we know of a nurse's duties or of the efficient organization of a nursing staff?

How many of us realize that at the same time we are being cared for in a hospital, young women are being educated for the profession of nursing in classrooms and laboratories "behind the scenes"?

Of every patient dollar paid to the hospital during Jameson's last fiscal year, 37 cents went for nursing salaries, supplies, and expenses.

Nursing service cost the hospital $140,000 during that year. This is the largest single item of expense in any hospital.

The cost of living has increased for nurses as it has for everyone else in recent years, and nursing salaries must keep pace. At Jameson, they range from 20 to 38 percent higher than prewar nursing salaries.

For this reason, the cost of nursing service is greater today than ever before.

Not everyone who wears a white uniform in a hospital is a nurse. Technicians in the X-ray and laboratory departments, for example, also wear white.

The easiest way to tell is the cap—all nurses wear them, and, since every nursing school has its own style of cap, you will see a variety of this significant headgear in any hospital.

Like the old school tie in England, the school or hospital where each nurse received her education for the profession is identified by her cap.

Department Highly Organized

Here's the chiefly developed organization of nursing service at Jameson Memorial hospital:

First, there is the director of nurses, Mrs. Jane Geiger, who is responsible for the operation of this department and the nursing school.

Mrs. Geiger joined the hospital in September with a background of several years of experience in the nursing field.

She has an assistant director of nurses, five supervisors (to cover all shifts), and seven head nurses (covering surgery, maternity, and all other departments).

There are also four full-time instructors in the nursing school. In addition to these, some of the supervisors have teaching duties.

Forty-six graduate nurses and 64 students complete the organization of "women in white" who bear such a tremendous responsibility in any community.

But that isn't all. In the hospital itself, 42 nurse aids and five orderlies are required to keep the nursing service functioning smoothly.

And, since the students live in two homes maintained by the hospital, housemothers (2), maids (6), and maintenance men (2) must be employed to keep the student residences (and the students!) in order.

One Of Humanitarian Professions

Nursing is one of the five great humanitarian professions, which also include religion, medicine, teaching, and social service.

Motivated as members of all the humanitarian professions are, by an idealistic conception of their task, nurses choose one of the hardest of jobs.

A student nurse learns right away that hers will be no "soft" career. Her day begins at six in the morning, when she must get up—and always out of the "right" side of the bed, for a nurse is expected to be cheerful—and prepare to report for breakfast by 6:40.

Classes and duty on the floors begin promptly at seven and, with time out only for lunch, continue until 3:30 in the afternoon.

From then until 10 o'clock, the student's time is her own. Part of it is spent preparing for the next day's classes, but part is also given over to recreation—swimming, glee club, and other activities.

Nurse Shortage Ending

During the war and for a long period following it, the shortage of nurses was desperately acute, not only at Jameson but all over the country.

Nurses here as elsewhere worked many hours overtime to assure adequate care for patients.

Many hospitals are still understaffed, but fortunately, for this community the situation improved at Jameson last October. An adequate and well-qualified staff was finally recruited for patient care, supervision, and student instruction.

A complete reorganization of the nursing service was undertaken at that time.

Curious as to how patients feel about the new nursing service, the hospital recently distributed a questionnaire asking for honest opinions. Patients' replies were heartening.

Comments Of Patients

They contained such comments as these:

"The nurses are very courteous and always pleasant." "I think it is about the best and the nurses have been swell." "The only improvement would be an increase in the nursing staff."

But some of the replies were so frank and to the point that, as Mrs. Geiger puts it, "they hurt."

She is now effecting changes as a result of the frank replies, and patients will continue to be asked for their honest opinions of nursing service to help keep the entire staff on its toes.

Mrs. Geiger believes that a satisfied patient is the best "advertisement" for a hospital and its nursing service, for she is convinced from experience that he will be as generous with his praise when discussing his hospitalization as the dissatisfied patient is free with his criticism.

Broadening Of Nurse's Role

Nursing service as performed by the faculty head nurses, general staff, and students is a combination of forces working toward common objectives—giving good service sufficient in amount and comprehensive enough in character to meet not just the physical needs at the bedside, but, as far as possible, all of the patient's health needs.

The work of the nurse in prevention of sickness and in assisting the doctor in bringing patients back to health is now well established, as is her role as teacher of the families she serves.

Nearly everyone has a keen desire to learn and advance. This must be recognized if a stable nursing staff is the aim. Thus, the hospital has instituted a staff education program.

Opportunities to take additional work at nearby colleges and universities are made possible.

With the start of the new year, the hospital will be in a position to add 27 student nurses to its daily nursing service, and an additional 19 in March.

Jameson Memorial hopes from now on to accept students for training twice a year, in March and September, thus establishing a large student body well trained in ministering to the mental and physical needs of the patients.

The State Department of Agriculture reports that the 1947 hay crop in Pennsylvania on November 1 was estimated at 3,673,000 tons.

Plan To Divert Oil Tankers To Domestic Uses

Halt Sale Of 13 Tankers To Foreign Nations, As Ordered By Truman

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—(INS)—Maritime Commissioner Raymond S. McKeough reported Tuesday that 13 government-owned tankers slated to be sold to foreign buyers have been diverted to domestic use to help meet the fuel oil shortage.

McKeough, appearing before the House Interstate Commerce Committee, which is investigating the oil situation, revealed that the Maritime Commission completed its tanker sale program last Friday.

Have Sold 466

He told the group that is authorized by law, the commission has sold 466 tankers since the end of the war, a total of 133 to foreign users and the remainder to domestic buyers.

The 13, he said, were slashed from a total of 96 that were scheduled this summer to be sold to foreigners at the direction of the president and the cabinet.

The number was reduced to 83 after congressional protests over the contribution of the transportation shortage to the East Coast oil scarcity.

Put Back In Trade

McKeough said the 13 retained by the government were those for which firm commitments had not been made to foreign purchasers.

He pointed out that many of the tankers sold to foreign purchasers would immediately be chartered to the big American oil companies and put back into the American trade.

The witness testified that 34 of the 83 tankers sold would come from the laid up fleet of 46 now in dry dock, while the remaining 49 would have to come out of the Maritime Commission's operating fleet of 140 tankers.

Road Building To Be Restricted During Winter

Hope To Make More Railroad Cars Available For Coal Transportation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—The public roads administration announced today that road building activities will be restricted during the next three months to make more railroad cars available for transportation of coal.

State highway departments agreed to curtail their use of rail cars for hauling stone gravel and sand when the cars otherwise could be used to move coal.

The highway departments acted at the request of the public roads administration which was informed by Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman that the nation faces a possible coal shortage because of the lack of transportation facilities.

Public Roads Commissioner Thomas H. MacDonald advised Federal Works Administrator Philip B. Fleming that 18 state highway departments will not initiate additional construction before March 1.

He also reported that 13 other states have agreed to reduce "to a negligible amount" the number of highside gondola and hopper cars used for transportation of highway materials.

MacDonald said that the remaining states in the unions could cooperate by using trucks instead of railroad cars for hauling or by curtailing maintenance operations.

For Second Night Margaret Truman Captures Audience

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 17.—(INS)—Miss Margaret Truman, daughter of the President, is rapidly winning home town admirers in her singing tour of Kansas City.

For the second consecutive night, the President's daughter was received graciously by a capacity crowd at her Kansas City concert last night.

Last night's concert in Kansas City Municipal Auditorium Music Hall was delayed 15 minutes, but the crowd gave Miss Truman a warm greeting when she appeared on the stage.

Miss Truman met a cool audience in the same hall last Monday night but before her concert was well under way she was warmly applauded.

Arrest Brothers In Truck-Trailer Theft

CARLISLE, Pa., Dec. 17.—(INS)—Two brothers were held today in Cumberland county jail charged with the theft of a truck trailer and its cargo.

Police identified the accused men as George Stuckey, of Harrisburg, and his brother, Earl O. Stuckey, of Carlisle, R. D.

Police said George Stuckey removed the loaded trailer from a parking lot at Highspire November 14 and drove it to his brother's farm where the cargo of miscellaneous goods was unloaded and hidden in a barn.

George confessed he took part of the cargo, including storage batteries, canned food and electric record players, to New York where he attempted to sell them, police reported. Unsuccessful in peddling the merchandise, he dumped it into a stream somewhere in New Jersey.

OTHER EVENTS AT COURT HOUSE

North Beaver township was well represented in court room number one Tuesday. A petition by the Dale Andrews Company was scheduled to be heard but was dismissed because of a defect in
it. The petition asks that the township supervisors be forced to take over and maintain three streets in the new realty development "Jackson Knolls."

The petition was to have been heard by Viewers James E. Chambers, Harold Seidel and W. Leslie Wilson. Upon examination it was found that the petitioners had not given proper notice to the county commissioners and for that reason was dismissed. It will be introduced again immediately.

The Andrews Company took over a 160-acre tract of land near Mount Jackson and erected a number of fine homes upon it. Three streets were built by the Andrews Company but they claim the supervisors have refused to take them over and maintain them.

While the hearing was not held,
there were many arguments pro
and con in the matter after adjournment. Replying to the assertion that the homes would add many thousands of dollars to the assessed valuation of the township, one gentleman replied that he was sorry to see them built.
North Beaver township is a farming district and should be left alone," said he.

The question of assessments brought up a question as to how the assessments compare with real value in the township. An examination of a list of properties showed some valued at $30,000, assessed at $2,500 one farm of nearly 100 acres with a substantial home upon it is assessed at $1,700. These examples were repeated many times.

RELIEF FOR INDIANS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(INS)—
The House Appropriations Committee approved today an immediate relief appropriation for the Navajo and Hopi Indians and blamed their plight on "the short-sighted policies of the Bureau of Indian Affairs."

The committee reduced the amount asked for emergency relief from $450,000 to $200,000. This

Will Dedicate State Tree Farm On December 18

Woodland Of 470 Acres On Route
350 Dedication Will Be All-
Day Event

TYRONE, Pa., Dec. 17.—(INS)—
A 470-acre woodlands tract owned by West Virginia Pulp and Paper company will be dedicated as a Pennsylvania state tree farm on Thursday, December 18, during a farm woodland management day program to be staged by the company at Tyrone.

The tree farm dedication will highlight a full day meeting of more than 100 persons, including pulpwood dealers and producers and county agricultural agents from the central and south central counties of the state.

The woodland area is located on Route 350, about two and a half miles south of Tyrone. Known as the Hundred Springs property, the tract is about 75 per cent woodlands.

The state tree farm movement is fostered by the American Forest Products Industries, a national association with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Owners of all woodlands set aside as state tree farms pledge to keep fire out of the woods, combat destructive insects and diseases, prevent over-grazing and generally manage the woodlands in a manner which will assure a continuing forest crop.

The tract also will be used for public demonstrations of new pulpwood producing methods and new equipment, and other activities of interest to pulpwood producers.

The day's program will be directed by W. H. Lynn, manager of the wood department of the Tyrone and Williamsburg plants of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company. Frank T. Murphy, Pennsylvania state extension forester, and Gene Hamill, Blair county agricultural agent.

Butler Wins Wild Contest In Final Second, 31-29

Tornado Breaks 29-29 Tie As Time Runs Out To Edge Douglass Five

Hurricane Trails Most Of Game As Scrappy Invaders Show Fight; Janacoe-Winters Each Tally 14 Points; Black Makes Season Debut.

A desperation field goal, by young Sal Russo, Butler forward, in the last second of the game, gave the Butler High Golden Tornado, a sensational 31 to 29 victory over New Castle's Red and Black passers at the Washington High floor last night, as a capacity crowd jammed every nook and corner of the small gym.

It was an exact replica of what took place at Butler last year, as Charley Rea stepped up to the foul line and dropped one in giving New Castle a 27 to 26 win as the game ended, only this time Butler was in front.

Exciting Moment

New Castle High after trailing the biggest part of the battle, had knotted the count at 29-29 with less than a minute left to play. Play was fast and furious with the players scrambling for the ball excitedly, when Russo got hold of the big leather spheroid and from near the foul line let go with a one-handed shot that "plunked" in as the buzzer ended the game. Pandemonium broke loose from the Butler bench and among the students and fans who had followed them to this city. They don't beat New Castle very often, football, basketball or track.

Butler had a well balanced team and will make it extremely tough for the Section I opponents this year. In fact they are rated as title contenders.

Score Tied Four Times

It was a typical New Castle-Butler battle the entire way, the score was tied up four times in the process at 1-1, 7-7, 9-9 and 29-29. New Castle trailed the first period 10 to 9, and at the half 20 to 13. Butler led 26 to 20 at the third period, after Coach Bill Douglass in an effort to salvage the victory put Don Black in the game with New Castle trailing 26 to 16, and the injured star forward sparked his team immensely, putting them right back in the ball game.

Butler led 29 to 25 with three minutes left. With two minutes left it was 29 to 27, with one minute left it was 29-29, as Wayne Gray flipped in one that was a life saver for New Castle. It began to look like an extra-period affair until Russo got the ball, then "bingo" it was over with Butler ahead. Incidentally this was the only field goal that Russo had all evening, but brother it was a "telling one".

Janacoe-Winters Stars

Again last night young Jimmy Janacoe played a great game, getting 14 of the New Castle points, almost half, and was a bearcat on defense. Janacoe was matched for points by the clever Claire Winters of Butler also with 14. Gene McIndoe, the Butler center, had 11 points to be runnerup on his team, and Wayne Gray had six for the runnerup spot for New Castle. Black contributed four points in his short tenure in the game. Foul tosses were about even, New Castle 7 out of 13, Butler 7 out of 14.

This was the first loss for New Castle in three starts, having beaten Erie Strong Vincent and Youngstown East in the first two Butler ran the victory skin to five straight and 11th in a row, including the performance at the tail end of the 1946-47 season.

New Castle will return to the Washington High court Saturday night, playing Johnstown. New Castle Reserves defeated Butler 32 to 14 in the preliminary game.

Phillies Buy

Roy Cullenbine

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17.—(INS)—The Philadelphia Blue-Jays added another wing to their nest today to make room for Roy Cullenbine, purchased from the Detroit Tigers for $20,000.

Cullenbine, 34, who sports a major league batting mark of .274, will be used either in the outfield or at first base—probably the latter—said Phillies General Manager Herb Pennock, in announcing the deal.

The addition of Cullenbine was the second deal by the Phils this week. Earlier the club traded pitcher Tommy Hughes for Bert Haas of the Cincinnati Reds.

The average age of players in the National Hockey League is 25.7 years. The oldest player in the circuit is Hector (Toe) Blake of Montreal at 35, while Ed Sandford, Boston rookie, is the youngest at 19.

New Wilmington Tops Middlesex

New Wilmington's Greyhounds defeated West Middlesex last night at New Wilmington floor 46 to 41, thus repeating the licking handed the Mercer countians a while back at the latter's court. The New Wilmingtons trailed at the first half 20 to 19 and the third quarter 33 to 31, but spurted in the final period to win, led by Jimmy Elder, the forward, who was the outstanding star with 21 points, followed by Graham with 16. The fast-moving valley school had an easy time of it as they led 27-11 at the half and poured it on in the second part of the contest. Hedrick sparked the Union offense with 12, while Skinner and Hall each dumped in 16 for the winners.

Mercer led the entire way 15 to 4, 25 to 13 and 40 to 23. Glass was best in the Bessemer lineup with 15 points. Bessemer plays at Darlington next Tuesday. Mercer won the prelim 30-19.

FINE GRIDDERS FOR BETTING

FIFTEEN HAWAIIAN pro football players, who wagered on themselves and then lost their bets, have been fined by a magistrate in Honolulu who disclosed the players had recovered half their $6,700 bet by threatening to beat up the "bookies". Two of the players who admitted betting on the contest with the Los Angeles Bulldogs in the Pacific Coast league pro football title game are Ray Scussell (left), formerly with Yale, and Mel Abreu, former University of Hawaii player.

Peace Seems Nearer, Between Grid Loops

BY LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Peace in pro football seemed immeasurably nearer today with the disclosure that two influential club owners in the rival National league and all-American conference had been conferring privately concerning an armistice.

The olive-branch pair, Alexis Thompson, of the Philadelphia Eagles, and Art "Mickey" McBride, of Cleveland's 1946-47 conference champions, quickly reached an accord early this week, with the first reaction being recorded yesterday.

This was the conference's decision to make its annual player-draft a provisional one—to be voided in case the National agreed to a two-league draft, a la baseball, at its annual meeting Friday.

Thompson, unlike McBride, didn't officially represent the elder body or its recorded sentiment. But he announced today he would carry the fight on the floor of the meeting, as his part of the compact, and claimed the pledged support of several recent "converts" to the cause.

When Thompson broached the idea some weeks ago of an inter-league peace, via a common draft, he was uniformly repudiated by the rest of his league.

But today "Lex" saw the situation as being just favorable enough to cause him to hope for victory at Pittsburgh this week-end or to definitely expect it "no later than next year."

That apparently won't be too soon for the financial comfort of some principals in this costly inter-league warfare—not soon enough for others.

But the competitive bidding for "name" players, fresh off the campus, is the recognized bank-roll-burner—with a five-figure payoff far from uncommon.

It will run especially high in the case of Harry Gilmer, Alabama's All-American who was drafted by Brooklyn yesterday. And that of Bobby Layne, of Texas, claimed by the Baltimore Colts.

This pair was officially acknowledged as draftees, after an earlier attitude of secrecy was abandoned wholly or in part, by four of the eight conference clubs.

First choices were revealed by the Colts and the entailed Rockets, with the latter taking Tony Minisi, Pennsylvania southpaw.

Johnny Lujack, Notre Dame's great quarterback, was not on the draft list. He was claimed by the Chicago Bears and Chicago Rockets last year and it is generally understood that he will play for the Bears next year.

Only the New York Yankees made a sweeping, unabashed declaration of their choices, totaling 24 of the 195 college men siphoned into conference option and priority. Their first choice was Gilmer's backfield mate at Alabama, Lowell Tew, a star passer.

Elks Defeated At New Brighton

New Castle Elks No. 69 team, suffered a 65-55 defeat last night at the hands of the New Brighton Legion team, at the valley gym floor, for their fourth loss of the year against two wins. The Pitzer brothers, Franny and Bob again led the Elks in scoring with 27 of the point between them.

At the half the Elks trailed 32 to 22. McComb, Oliver and Moller led the New Brighton scoring. Cash Kozela and Bus Strausbaugh each had nine of the Elks points.

Fox-Lesnevich Fight March 5

Billy Fox

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(INS)—Gus Lesnevich, "boxer of the year" and the world's light-heavyweight champion, will fight K. O. specialist Billy Fox of Philadelphia in a return title bout next March 5, much to the chagrin of Cincinnati light-heavyweight Ezzard Charles. No contracts have been signed, but that formality will be attended to as soon as Fox's manager, Blinky Palermo, consents to 20th Century Sporting club terms, as presented by Promoter Sol Strauss.

The contract-inking is expected Thursday. However, although the fight is "unofficial", there already have been reverberations from Cleveland.

Fight Promoter Larry Adkins telegraphed Joe Vella, Lesnevich's manager, yesterday stating that the champion "refused $50,000 to defend the title against the only logical challenger, Ezzard Charles."

Adkins branded the fight as "skulduggery" and added he was certain "no one will recognize that bout as a title bout."

Initial objections to the $200,000 total were made by five Socialists, headed by Maurice Webb, chairman of the Parliamentary Socialist Party.

Attempts of government conciliators to avert the walkout collapsed after a five-hour meeting in Philadelphia last night when officials of three AFL unions involved clung to their demands for 15 cents an hour and turned thumbs down on company officers.

Adolph Brungs, president of the Western Union division of the Commercial Telegraphers Union, described reported company proposals as "nothing but an insulting offer."

In Grecian mythology, Clio was one of the nine muses. Clio was at first called the muse of 'epic poetry'; later, and more commonly, she was regarded as the muse of history. In ancient art her common attribute is a partly opened roll.

Doak Walker of Southern Methodist was the fourth man named to the first-string all-American backfield.

Georgia Tech's Bob Davis filled the other tackle berth, while Charles Bednarik of Pennsylvania was named to pivot the line. And the ends were Mississippi's Barney Poole and of course, Columbia's Bill Swacki.

Two more games were played in the House league last night. The first game went to the New Castle Business college by a score of 36 to 29 over the Forest A. C. Bruce was the big gun, scoring 18 points, or exactly half of his team's points. Cooper starred for the Forest A. C.

The second game went to the Safety Five over the Shamrocks in a thriller 33 to 32. Koonce led the way for the Safety Five while Fanning paced the losers.

Wednesday three more games will be on the card, in the Church C. I. league. At 7:15 Croton will play the First Baptist, in the second tilt at 8:15 Universal Pottery will tangle with the United Engineering, and the finale of the evening will find Epworth meeting the First Methodist.

Some Opposition To Increasing Of Funds For Princess

By JAMES CAMSELL
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Dec. 17.—A proposal to increase the allowance of Princess Elizabeth and also provide a separate income for her bridegroom, the Duke of Edinburgh, was threatened today by a revolt of Laborite members of Parliament.

The row which has arisen among the Laborites over the allowances is likely to come to a head during a special emergency meeting of the Parliamentary Labor Party.

Later in the day the House of Commons will be asked to approve the allowances, and the revolt may be carried to the House floor.

Laborite Emrys Hughes already has presented a motion which calls for cancelling the proposed boost in the allowance of Elizabeth and the provision for giving her husband an income of his own.

A select committee of the House of Commons recommended that the royal couple should receive a combined income of $200,000 a year.

Should the motion by Hughes be carried the princess would continue to receive her present allowance of $60,000 annual and the duke would get nothing other than his nominal naval pay.

Initial objections to the $200,000 total were made by five Socialists, headed by Maurice Webb, chairman of the Parliamentary Socialist Party.

Attempts of government conciliators to avert the walkout collapsed after a five-hour meeting in Philadelphia last night when officials of three AFL unions involved clung to their demands for 15 cents an hour and turned thumbs down on company officers.
